

The United States Air Force Heritage of America Band

Heritage Brass Quintet

The Heritage Brass Quintet will span more than 250 years of musical tradition when they appear at (place) for a free performance on (date) at (time). The group's repertoire includes a wide variety of chamber works as well as popular and patriotic pieces.

The quintet's versatility stems from their educational backgrounds and experience. They have studied with members of major orchestras such as the St. Louis Symphony, Denver Symphony, Minnesota Symphony, Dallas Symphony, Rochester Philharmonic, Chicago Symphony and the Virginia Symphony. In addition, they have attended music schools from all around the country including the University of Kansas, Emporia State University, the University of Michigan, Bowling Green State University and the University of Texas at Austin.

Comprised of two trumpets, horn, trombone and bass trombone, the Heritage Brass quintet is part of the United States Air Force Heritage of America Band, a 60-member band stationed at Langley Air Force Base, Virginia. The group performs Air Force community relations music programs at concert halls, schools, retirement homes, churches and theaters throughout the eastern United States. They also present music clinics at the elementary, secondary and collegiate levels.
